Japan Ends Defeat String With Win of Vital Hengyang

Five Chinese Generals Remain in City Until End of Fight

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Japan has broken her steady string of defeats in the Pacific, Burma and India with the capture of Hengyang, vital Chinese city from which the Japanese can drive south to split China in two.

Five Chinese generals apparently remained with the last survivors of the heroic garrison, composed principally of Cantonese troops, when the Japanese broke into the city after the bitterest fighting in China since the battle for Shanghai in 1937.

The generals in a farewell message to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, sent on Tuesday night just before radio contact with Hengyang was broken, said they intended to stay with their troops and die fighting.

Government spokesman P. H. Chang today affirmed China's determination to frustrate Japanese plans to conquer the whole Canton-Hankow railway and asserted the long, heroic defense of Hengyang, which halted the enemy's advance in Hunan province, had almost destroyed its present strategic importance.

A firm hold on the rest of the Canton-Hankow railway would complete Japanese control of a 1,000 mile strip across China, giving them an overland rail route from Peiping in the north to Canton.

10,000 Japs Dead on Guam

Senior of the five generals left in Hengyang was Fang Hsien Chueh, 39-year-old commander of China's Tenth army and a graduate of China's West Point, Whampoa Military Academy. He played an important part in the second and third battles of Changsha and last winter in the battle for Changteh.

Nowhere else did Japan have the upper hand. Extermination of the last Japanese was in full swing on Guam, now after two years reclaimed by U. S. forces under Adm. Chester Nimitz. Warships and planes poured explosives on Japanese remnants trapped in a 15-square-mile area of northern Guam, while Marines and soldiers drove wedges into their lines in order to hack them to pieces.

More than 10,000 enemy dead have been counted.

In the New Guinea area Gen. MacArthur's airmen cut down Japan's air strength at Hahnahera, stepping stone to the Philippines, in a 48-ton raid wiping out 13 grounded planes and damaging many others.

"Detroit of Germany" Hit by 1,000 Planes

London, Aug. 9—(AP)—More than 1,000 U. S heavy bombers and fighters attacked objectives around Stuttgart, the "Detroit of Germany," today and Berlin reported another fleet was striking at Hungary from Italian bases.

The thrust into the reich was the first since Sunday for British based heavy bombers, which had devoted all their effort to support of allied armies in France.

Twice within three hours last night, RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes attacked three fuel dumps in northern France—all considerable distances from the battle front and each containing hundreds of tons of oil.

More than 3,200 sorties were flown yesterday against German front positions in support of ground troops driving toward Paris, but Allied appraisal of the results was marred again by a report that some explosives fell short, bombing Canadian positions.

The weather was unfavorable over the battle trea today.

No Confirmation of Himmler's Execution

London, Aug. 9—(AP)—British officials said today they had found nothing concrete to confirm that Heinrich Himmler had been assassinated, as related by a German army intelligence officer captured by Britons in France.

"This appears to be a rumor current among the soldiers, but too many details are lacking — such as the time Himmler is supposed to have been killed—to let us put much credence in it," one official said.

Captured Germans, a Normandy dispatch said, related their information was only what they had heard. The officer's story was that Gestapo Chief Himmler had been killed in a new outbreak against the nazi hierarchy which also resulted in wounding Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering.

Nazis in Southern France Unable to Salvage Equipment

Irun, Spain, Aug. 9—(AP)—German attempts to evacuate men and equipment from positions in southwestern France outflanked by allied troops farther north are being seriously disrupted by French patriots sabotaging communication lines and spreading panic among the nazis still in that area, border reports said today.

As the German army of occupation moved northward the Maquis were reported narrowing its way of escape and grimly awaiting the time when those nazis left behind are too weak to survive the challenge of the Frenchmen of the mountains. The Maquis were declared to be forcing the Germans to destroy much of the material they hoped to rescue from southern France.

The few Germans still remaining along the French border were comparatively calm. They apparently feel that if the worst comes they can cross into Spain and surrender their arms. It was among the German units further to the north that the dread of the Maquis was said to be growing.

Tell of Allied Victories

Two blonde daughters of the French station master at Hendaye said their fellow countrymen in the border region were making the lives of the Germans still in the area particularly miserable by keeping them informed of the news of allied victories as

FDR Spurns Jap-Made Bone Letter Opener

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP)—The White House said today some well wisher had sent President Roosevelt a letter opener which was claimed to have been carved from the bone of a Japanese soldier.

Roosevelt, the White House said, ordered that it be returned to the sender with the explanation that he did not wish to have such an object in his possession and with the suggestion that it be given burial.

The information was made available here after the Vatican news service in Rome said recent publication of a story about the letter opener had resulted in a request from the Catholic archbishop of Tokyo for "respect for the laws of humanity even in total war".

Dewey Seeks to Rope New Jersey's Vote

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, satisfied that in Thomas J. Curran he had a U. S. senate candidate who would strengthen his bid for New York's 47 electoral voters, turned his attention today to neighboring New Jersey, whose 16 votes is another November prize.

Gov. Walter E. Edge and a New Jersey congressional delegation had a luncheon appointment with Dewey, who looked to them for a report on what he might expect there.

The Republican presidential nominee planned to confer also with Charles M. Dale, Republican candidate for governor of New Hampshire.

Pines for Marines, Steals Into Army

Chicago, Aug. 9—(AP)—"I wanted to go back to the Marines, not the Army," declared William T. Daniels, 19, a Vermont, Ill., railroad worker, as he gave himself up to police.

Daniels, who says he was given a medical discharge from the Marine Corps last March after 26 months in New Caledonia and Australia, pined to get back into service. He found a way, said Michael J. Boyle, Assistant U. S. Attorney, like this:

Last Thursday in a Galesburg, Ill., tavern he met Pvt. Sam Phillips who pined to get out of the Army. Discussing their problems over a friendly drink they hit upon a plan. They exchanged clothing and identification papers. Daniels became Pvt. Phillips, complete with uniform, "dog tag" and identification papers. Phillips became Daniels, with medical discharge and draft card.

Apparently not caring for Army life, the real Daniels surrendered to the police who turned him over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He was charged with failure to have a draft card. Yesterday U. S Commissioner Edwin K. Walker continued his hearing pending inquiry and held him on $1,000 bond. Daniels insists that he registered for the draft at Bakersfield, Calif. He says that after his discharge he wandered into the middlewest and took a job as a laborer on the Burlington railroad.

The FBI agents said they are searching for Pvt. Phillips.

Russians Tighten Noose Around Nazi Forces in Baltics

Reds Press on Riga for Biggest Kill of Summer Campaign

BULLETIN

London, Aug. 9—(AP)—The German radio said today that men and women in the Polish corridor and Danzig had been mobilized totally to dig in against the threat of Russian invasion.

Moscow, Aug. 9—(AP)—The Red Army tightened a noose today around German Baltic forces once estimated at more than 20 divisions—between 250,000 and 300,000 men—and smashed a deeper wedge through Poland toward German Silesia west of the Vistula.

Three soviet columns pressed on Riga from the west, south and east for possibly the biggest kill of the summer campaign. Heavily armored enemy units fell back upon the Latvian capital, their offensive thrusts shattered by Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's right wing.

The soviet high command announced that enemy forces are being "bled white" and "our troops are stubbornly advancing" against German reserve divisions thrown into desperate counterattacks in nearly every sector of the front to keep the Russian hordes from German soil. A communique supplement said all were repulsed.

Warsaw Unmentioned

(The Red army was reported in a BBC broadcast heard by NBC today to have broken into German defenses on the East Prussian frontier).

The communique also announced a six-mile northward thrust on the Vistula bridgehead, a drive that may be pointed at Warsaw from the south, and an advance to within 33 miles of the Czechoslovakian border.

The Russians said that to support their counterattacks the Germans are hurling even road-building, airdrome and other rear detachments" into battle. It was reported 16 new German divisions have reached the front in the past three weeks—some from the cen-

Gas Rationing Plan Knocked for Loop by Airplane Slip

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP)—There is a loophole in the national gasoline rationing program big enough to fly a sports biplane through.

Owners of private airplanes can demand enough gasoline to carry them on a vacation trip to the Yellowstone or a fishing trip to Florida, and their local ration boards must hand them the requested rations.

The only requisite is that the gasoline be used in the plane, not an automobile.

Officials of the Office of Price Administration conceded today that they are helpless to do anything about the situation under present regulations. Conferences have been held, however, looking toward a possible revision of the rule.

Paragraph number 138.01 in the master OPA regulation book reads: "There is no restriction upon the amount of gasoline which may be allowed for operation of airplane engines." That guides

Furious Fighting Around Arezzo in Italy is Reported

British-Indian Forces Recapture Blood-Soaked Mount Grillo

Rome, Aug. 9—(AP)—British and Indian forces have recaptured blood-soaked Monte Grillo and have beaten off five enemy counterattacks on its slopes in furious fighting north and northwest of Arezzo, allied headquarters announced today as a lull prevailed over most of the Italian front.

A communique described the situation in and around Florence as virtually unchanged, with only patrol activity in the immediate vicinity of the great art center.

There were no further reports of the Germans shelling the southern part of the city. Associated Press war correspondent Lynn Heinzerling, who has been with the Eighth army inside the city in recent days, said the German batteries had been directing their fire at targets outside the southern limits and there was nothing to indicate damage to the city itself.

Conflicting Reports

There were conflicting reports, however, on conditions within the heart of Florence on the north bank of the Arno.

The British troop paper "Union Jack" said that life was going on normally inside Florence but that the water supply was short and black marketeers were selling water at 20 lire per bottle. (The lire had a pre-war value of about five cents).

On the other hand the Canadian troopsheet, "Maple Leaf," said an Italian who had forded the Arno and reached the allied lines declared that "central Florence is being systematically looted by the Germans" and that the citizens are confined indoors. He also asserted that fighting between fascists and anti-fascists had broken out in one section.

Clipper Death List Expected to Mount

Havana, Aug. 9—(AP) — The known toll of six dead was expected to rise today as a salvage crew worked to lift a four-engined Pan American Clipper from the bottom of Nipe Bay, Antilla, where it crashed while taking off for Miami with 31 persons aboard.

Eleven passengers, two of them children, remained unaccounted for after the accident yesterday. The big plane was on a regular San Juan-to-Miami flight and had made a stop to discharge three passengers at the way station in Cuba's lush sugar cane country.

Nine passengers and the crew of five were saved.

Chile Snowslide Traps 100 Persons Today

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 9—(AP)—A snowslide in the Andine copper mining town of Sewell buried 100 persons today. Reports this morning said that four bodies had been found and eight injured persons were rescued.

Capt. Norman Ives, Director of Port of Cherbourg, Dies

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP)—Capt. Norman S. Ives, U. S. director of the Port of Cherbourg, France, has been killed in action.

The Navy disclosed this today, but gave no indication of how the 47-year-old officer met death.

A veteran of duty with submarines, Ives played a large part in development of safety devices which have saved the lives of many men serving on submersibles.

He volunteered to command the submarine S-4 after she was raised from the sea bottom off Provincetown, Mass., and fitted out for safety experiments in 1925. The S-4 had been sunk in 1927 in a collision.

Among safety devices developed aboard the S-1 was the "lung" which has made possible the escape of many crew men from sunken submarines.

Native of Galesburg

Ives won the Navy Cross for his work on the S-1 and a citation said that "during his period of command he participated in all experimental escape work with the lung at great personal risk".

Ives, a native of Galesburg, Ill., was named port director at Cherbourg last month. He was the first allied naval officer to become director of a captured

Charge Nylon Diverted From East's War Effort

Newark, N. J., Aug. 9—(AP)—Diversion of nylon for women's stockings at the expense of the manufacture of army parachutes and aerial tow lines was alleged yesterday by New Jersey FBI Chief Samuel K. McKee as he announced the arrest of three men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

McKee said the nylon, "badly needed" by the government, "was made into women's hose and sold at black market prices."

Enough nylon to make 12,000 pairs of 100 per cent nylon hose had been diverted, the FBI chief stated, and FBI agents recovered $30,000 worth of thread and unfinished hosiery.

Yankees Capture LeMans In March On Paris Today

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Whether there's truth in the report that nazi Gestapo Chief Himmler-the-Hangman has been assassinated and Reichsmarshal Goering wounded, the fact remains that all the leaders of the Hitler regime are increasingly in danger of violent death.

The dictator has put the already war-weary and gloomy German people under a terrific strain of regimentation in his program for total war. He has chained them to their galley seats and is using the lash to make them pull their oars. His armies are under the even greater stress of continual defeats and retreats.

Thus while Hitler may be able to keep the lid on for a time by terrorism and force, morale inevitably will deteriorate to the point where more and more individuals will seek the lives of the leaders responsible for Germany's catastrophe. The gallows which yesterday claimed eight more army officers has only begun its grim work. No wonder the fuehrer's spirits are so low that he's said to be taking a rest cure in his Alps retreat at Berchtesgaden.

The greatest test of Hitler's ability to hold his people in line is still to be made. He's about to undergo a trial by fire in the great retreats which the German armies must achieve in the western and eastern theaters to reach the inner defenses of the reich for their last stand.

The next few weeks are going to be among the most crucial of the war. They will tell us whether the out-matched nazi soldiers can

Spur Investigation in Fort Wayne Deaths

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 9—(AP)—Investigation of the recent slayings of three Fort Wayne women was spurred today by the posting of awards of $5,000 in each case for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killers.

The nude and battered body of the latest victim—Phyllis Conine, 17-year-old high school girl—was found Sunday several miles south of the city. Missing since Friday, her skull had been fractured and there were evidences of strangulation. Condition of the body prevented determination whether she had been raped. Her purse was found yesterday several miles from the scene.

First victim of the series of slayings was Wilhelma Haaga who staggered into a farmhouse last Feb. 2 beaten so badly she was unable to tell what had happened. She died three days later.

Last May 22, the body of Anna Kuzeff, 22, war plant worker, was found along a dark road on the western edge of the city. She had been raped.

28,000 Workers in U. S., Canada Idle

BULLETIN

Philadelphia, Aug. 9—(AP)—U. S. District Judge George A. Welsh told a special investigating grand jury today that Philadelphia's six-day transit strike may have been called "to have some effect on the impending national election."

The jurist, in a 10-minute charge, said he did not believe the upgrading of eight Negro transit employes to operating jobs was the real cause of the unauthorized walkout. Strike spokesmen had said it was.

"I don't want to bring politics into this investigation," Judge Welsh said, "but you may find that what was in the hearts and minds of the men who called this strike was intended to have some effect on the impending national election."

Berlin Reports U. S. Troops Within 87 Miles of Paris

BULLETIN

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 9—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Karl Spang, commander of the German 266th infantry division, has been captured by the American First Army near Brest.

Eight German generals have been killed in France. Two others and a rear admiral have been captured since D-Day, June 6.

Within a week, the Germans have announced the deaths in France of Lt. Gen. von Drabisch-Waechter, a divisional commander, and Maj. Gen Rudolf Stegman, a western front commander.

In the Russian offensive started June 23, the Red army has announced the capture of 27 German generals and the deaths of several others. Numerous other German general officers have been reported killed in the blood purge folowing the purported attempt to assassinate Hitler July 20, and in "accidents".

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 9—(AP)—American troops today captured Le Mans, southwestern gateway to Paris barely 110 miles beyond, and Canadians smashed through the Germans' second defense line to a point 16 miles below Caen.

The Canadian plunge carried within four miles of Falaise, itself only 65 miles above Le Mans. The allied wings were curling around the bulk of the German army, threatening to pocket it.

Other U. S. troops battering southward neared Angers on the Loire river, 50 miles inland from the river port of Nantes and 50 southwest of Le Mans.

This broadened the U. S. front in France to some 80 miles. Enemy resistance in the Loire push was reported light.

On the Breton peninsula, doughboys charged into the outer defenses of the great port of Brest after the German garrison refused a surrender ultimatum. Lt. Gen. Karl Spang, commanding the German 266th infantry, was captured near Brest.

Both the Americans and Canadians were within little more than 100 miles—and perhaps closer to Paris in a great pincers drive on the French capital.

The British army on the Canadian left also smashed ahead,

Six hundred (three words censored) Fortresses and Liberators participated in the raid, which was directed against German positions in front of the Canadian line.

Wall St. News

New York, Aug. 9—(AP)—A handful of utility issues, the more active of the group under the $10 level, scored modest advances in the stock market today although their early gains were pared.
Low-priced motors drifted under the burden of continued liquidation but selling lacked urgency and losses were fractional most of the day.
Prominent shares in other categories were neglected and, toward the close, held within minor fractions of previous prices. Turnover was about 1,000,000 shares for the session.
The war news again was a restraining factor to bidding, further allied advances inspiring caution and stimulating consideration of the effect on domestic industry of a nazi collapse.
Ahead much of the session were North American, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of New Jersey, American Water Works, National Power & Light, Columbia Gas & Electric and General Realty & Utilities. Martin-Parry drew some late support. Tilted forward but less active were Standard Oil (N. J.) Texas Co., U.S. Steel, Chrysler and General Motors.

Bonds moved unevenly. Cotton in late trades was 25 to 40 cents a bale higher.

Class Reunion

A class reunion with members of the 1922 graduating class of the Paw Paw Community high school was held Thursday afternoon at the village park. It was an ideal day for the event and a large number of the class members were able to be on hand. The afternoon was spent in visiting and the many fond and happy incidents of their high school days were once again relived. As the group discussed their life since that always to be remembered graduation night, it was interesting to note of the many changes of each member of the class. Each member is a little bit older and a little bit wiser than that night when they graduated, but if they had it to do over again it was agreed that they would no doubt do just as they have done throughout these many years. The class history of 1922, written by Mrs. R. S. Tarr and Mrs. Harry Politsch, was read by Mrs. Agnes Risetter during the afternoon. This did indeed bring back the fond memories of those happy carefree days when they were attending good old Paw Paw high school. It was also decided to take the picture of those present, so that each one may enjoy this day all over again at some future date, upon looking at this picture. The girls then enjoyed a delicious lunch downtown at H. R. Town's restaurant, where tables were reserved for them. Huge dishes of ice cream were placed before them and Mrs. Harry Politsch made a delicious devil's food cake. Another class member, Mrs. Wayne Rosenkrans made an angel food cake, beautifully decorated with pink flowers placed artistically around it and she wrote the name of every class member on the top of the cake with pink frosting. It was indeed beautifully and expertly done.
Following the luncheon the girls each wrote a short greeting to Mrs. Elinore Merriman, a member of the class who was unable to be present because of being in distant Denver, Colo. Yes, it was a delightful afternoon and everyone enjoyed getting together again after so many years. The good wishes of each was extended to each other and those who were able to be present were: Mrs. Vernon Kent of Maywood, Mrs. Agnes Risetter and Mrs. Alice Reese of Scarboro, Mrs. R. S. Tarr, Mrs. August Schlesinger, Mrs. Harry Politsch and Mrs. Wayne Rosenkrans of Paw Paw. Those members of this class who were unable to attend, but who were remembered by all were Mrs. Lyle Pettinger of Hinckley, Mrs. Irvin Knauer of West Brooklyn, Mrs. Albert Herrick, Mrs. Ralph Yenerich and Mrs. Jean Baker of Rollo, Mrs. Elinore Merriman of Denver, Colo., and Miss Marie Gallagher of Paw Paw.

Grange Members Meet

The Grange members met at their lodge rooms Friday evening for their first meeting for the month of August. The usual business meeting was held announcing that a waste paper drive is being sponsored by the Grange. Everyone who has waste paper of any kind should start saving it now and bring it to the Grange hall Friday evening, August 18. This paper is badly needed for the war effort, so don't throw it away. At the close of the business session an entertaining program was presented by Master Charles Merriman in the absence of the lecturer, Mrs. Walter Stevens. The highlight of the program being the scenic pictures shown by Edwin P. Flickinger, manager at the hemp mill in Earlville. These pictures were taken while traveling throughout the United States and especially colorful views of Yellowstone park were shown. He also had many pictures of the beautiful campus of the University of Illinois at Champaign as well as other views of that scenic city. These were greatly enjoyed by the members and all hope that he will find time at some future date to show more of his large collection of pictures. Mrs. Lyle Foster and daughter Dorothy played a lovely piano duet, followed by Mrs. Charles Merriman giving a humorous reading on the many duties a farmer's wife is called upon to do. Charles Merriman then gave a reading to close the program. During the social time that followed, the refreshment committee, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Linden, Mr. and Mrs. George Kettley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Larabee, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kern and James Ketchum, served a delicious lunch. A pleasant evening was spent by all and don't forget to bring your scrap paper at the Grange hall, August 18th, 18th.

Mary's LISTENIN' POST

THE weather is a bit warm to begin to talk about school lunches but on the other hand there are P.-T. A. groups and other organizations that are interested in children who are thinking about the things which they can do this school year to make the young people healthier and happier in their school work.

THE question of school lunches has long been a controversial one because most teachers are over-loaded trying to teach their students let alone trying to feed them too. Here is the place where wide awake parents' organizations could step in. By taking turns in working out the project the task would not be so great.

IN MANY cases the matter of a hot lunch at noon served at the school is entirely unnecessary—children live close to school and can go home to a well-balanced meal which is definitely better than any hot lunch program that can be inaugurated. The youngsters which people should be concerned about are those who have parents working and who have no adequate noon lunch if they do go home.

ANOTHER place where many a school lunch program has fallen down is in the wide variety of things which the sponsors attempted to serve. Nutrition experts now generally agree that one supplemental dish each noon is of considerable help and this eaten along with the usual cold sandwiches makes a fairly nutritious meal.

PROBABLY the biggest problem in starting something like this is in the initial organization. There is a committee in Lee county known as a Nutrition committee and those people are ready and anxious to help start just such projects. They have a considerable amount of literature on just how much is needed for each type of lunch and just what the food value would be of different things that could be easily served.

JOSEPHINE KILLEEN is chairman of the Lee county nutrition committee and she may be consulted at her office in the Illinois Northern Utilities building in Dixon. Marion Church is secretary and she may be contacted at her office in the basement of the new part of the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital. These people can refer you to others who are interested and equipped to help throughout the county.

ANOTHER group who are trained to help in such projects are those who "graduated" from the various nutrition classes which were given by the Red Cross around the county. Especially can the canteen class who finished their advanced work at Dixon give you information about group feeding at a low cost.

IN FACT some of the members of the canteen class are especially anxious to start something in the line of group feeding so that they may put in the required number of hours work so that they may keep their certificates valid which are given to them by the Red Cross. These people also have a great deal of material and information which they can give to help organize this kind of a project.

IF SOME youngsters need the food and their parents do not have the money to pay for it (although this is not the usual complaint these days) there is a federal fund which can be tapped for that purpose. Thus you can see there is almost no limit to the help you can get for building better nutrition and thus better health among the young people of the nation.

BY THE way, this nutrition committee which is one of 3,000 organized in the United States, has a vast amount of information about all kinds of food problems beside school lunches. If you want to know something about canning or meat planning or any food problems give your committee a call.

Sustained by Hope

A Chamorro Refugee Camp, Guam, Aug. 3—(Delayed)—(AP)—The inhabitants of Guam never gave up hope that the Americans would return to this island.
One of the reasons the Japanese closed the churches was because the natives insisted on praying for the Americans to return, said Gaily R. Kamminga, commissioner of Piti Town.
Kamminga, whose father came from Holland, laughed as he told how the Japanese looked through his house for an American flag. They threw a pillow from side to side without discovering the flag sewed inside. That was the work of his niece, Juana, a dressmaker who said she had to cut down American Marines' shirts to fit the Nipponese.
Mrs. Anna Underwood, whose husband was postmaster of Guam from 1915 until the Japanese seized the island Dec. 10, 1941, related that the Nipponese declared less than a week ago that the Americans would never retake Guam. Japan had wanted the island for 25 years and wouldn't let it go, she quoted Japanese as saying.
Underwood was interned when the enemy overran Guam.
Francisco Guerrero, former ordnance clerk for the U. S. Marines, said that "deep in the hearts of all of us was the hope that the Americans would come back. That hope kept us alive".

The War Today

endure the bloody grind of firing and retiring. They will tell us whether the German home front can stand the frightful casualty lists and growing defeat, in addition to the serfdom Hitler has imposed.
The greatest single menace hanging over Hitler as he tries to extricate his armies probably is the mighty allied air-force which these days roam the skies with little challenge. When the Germans stand and fight, great fleets of American and British flying-artillery deluge them with death. When the Hitlerites retreat, they are pursued and decimated by warplanes.

Japan Ends Defeat

troops split trapped Japanese units into three segments. This operation, beginning July 10, has cost the Japanese from 4,000 to 9,000 men and apparently has foiled the enemy attempt to break free of the trap near Aitape.
Airmen from the Nimitz and MacArthur theaters raided Yap in the Carolines; Nauru, important phosphate-producing island; Paramushiro in the Kuriles just north of Japan, and Wake.

Mrs. W. W. Winn's condition is about the same.

Gas Rationing

the action of the local rationing boards.
OPA controls the use of all gasoline under 86-octane. That quality of fuel gives satisfactory performance in most light aircraft.
Some local boards have protested against the wide-open plane fuel ruling, but it remains in the regulations:
Flying clubs and other spokesmen for the private plane owners declare the amount of gasoline their ships use is negligible when compared with the nation's overall gasoline consumption. OPA has no way of ascertaining just how much gasoline the private fliers use, as their gallonage is lumped with other non-highway use fuel, including that used in stoves, motorboats, tractors and stationary engines.

22,367 Licensed Planes

As of yesterday, the Civil Aeronautics Administration reported there were 22,367 licensed private planes. The total includes both sports planes and company aircraft, such as big 12-place transports operated by oil concerns and similar enterprises.
Another 10,000 planes soon will be added to the pool through disposal of surplus government-owned planes used in pre-military flight training, CAA estimated. Flying, heavily restricted at the start of the war, is coming back with a boom.
Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, urged that the unlimited plane-fuel regulation be "immediately repealed."
He declared in a statement:
"With millions of private passenger cars restricted to two gallons a week, and with government agencies constantly warning the public as to the tightness of the gasoline situation, this liberal provision for airplanes is wholly indefensible, whether we have 500 privately-owned airplanes in operation or 50,000."
While private flying has been severely restricted during the war in strategic coastal defense zones, the government has been relaxing the rules to permit a much greater use of planes. Flight "corridors" have been laid out from airfields in the defense zones to the unrestricted-flight sections of the interior. From Washington, for instance, two such paths have been authorized: one leading to Manassas, Va., the other to Frederick, Md.

The French openly talk about the war on the streets and in cafes, the sisters said, adding that boys and girls under working and fighting age help annoy the Germans by singing a French equivalent of the American song, "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal You".
Less than 1,000 German soldiers remain in Hendaye, St. Jean de-Luz and other points south of Bordeaux. These stay close to their barracks and seem ready to move at a moment's notice, French reports said.

portion, three Paterson, N. J., plants at least 3,000; Montreal, Que., tramways strike, 4,000.
The United Automobile Workers (CIO) appealed to the National War Labor Board today to review the dispute in the five Detroit plants.
Nine thousand more were idle in 16 other disputes across the nation.
Latest stoppage was a walkout of 130 tool makers and grinders at the Dodge Chicago plant, making engines for B-29 Super-fortresses, in what a company spokesman said was a protest over a three-day suspension of a worker for refusing to take orders.
Settled, however, was a stoppage since July 23 of 500 glass blowers at Ball Bros. Co., Muncie, Ind., an AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute. They returned to work yesterday (Tuesday).

AT MUNITIONS PLANT

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 9—(AP)—A work stoppage at the Illinois ordnance plant near Carbondale went into the sixth day today as representatives of union and management continued negotiating for a settlement which would return 1200 munitions makers to their jobs.
Capt Loran B. Mebine, commanding officer, said idleness of one of the plant's three major load lines resulted from a closed shop controversy in which 67 union members (AFL) walked out Aug. 3, protesting continued employment of eight unorganized employes in the plant warehouse.

PROBE TRACTION STRIKE

Philadelphia, Aug. 9—(AP)—A federal grand jury convened today to investigate the city's recent six-day transit strike while Negro trainees, whose upgrading to drivers' jobs precipitated the strike, resumed training with white operator-trainees.
Attorney General Biddle, in Billings, Mont., en route west, said he believed there was a "conspiracy" involved in the walkout's causes but did not elaborate.
Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward A. Kelly indicated the jury was prepared to go beyond provisions of the Smith-Connally anti-strike act.
"We might find a conspiracy to sabotage the war effort", he said, "in which case we would not be confined to the Smith-Connally act, but would then proceed under the provisions of the second war powers act, which carries much more drastic penalties".
Meanwhile, armed guards continued to ride every bus, trolley, subway and subway-elevated today.

CAPITAL CHARGES

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) charged on the senate floor today that the recent Philadelphia transit strike was "deliberately fomented by an agency of the government".
Russell said he referred to "the "so-called Fair Employment Practices Committee", and added:
"If there had been no FEPC, not a single man hour of war production would have been lost and there would have been no racial disturbances or bitterness".
Describing the six-day tieup as "tragic", he said that the causes of the controversy "are so deep and far-reaching as to present a grave threat to national unity".
"It is crystal clear", he said, "that the overwhelming purpose of the FEPC to refashion this country to conform to the ideas of its racial members is as much, or more, responsible for the Philadelphia tragedy than the employes of the transit company whom they finally badgered into unpatriotic action".

State Crops Dying from Lack of Rain Say Weather Men

Springfeild, Ill., Aug. 9—(AP)—Lack of general rains is daily shortening crop prospects in numerous Illinois areas and some southern counties report wells running out of water, the weather bureau said today in a report terming the drought "very serious".
Although early season good subsoil moisture has largely been depleted, progress of corn continues fair to good over much of the north and in some southern localities, but otherwise is poor to deteriorating, the weekly corn bulletin said. About 68 per cent of the crop is shooting ears.
Except for a shower of 0.76 inch at Galena Aug. 4 and about a half inch in Greenup and Quincy areas, there was no rainfall of importance reported in the state during the week ended yesterday.
"More rain is urgently needed throughout the state," meteorologist E. W. Holcomb said. "The drought is spottedly very serious in central and south areas."

Temperature Over Normal

Petersburg, Springfield, Harrisburg and New Burnside have had only about 1.10 inches of rain since June 1 and neighboring counties in a wide drought belt less than two inches during the 70 days. Dry soil is preventing plowing.
Temperatures during the week averaged four degrees above normal. Average statewide rainfall was 0.06 inch, or 0.68 below normal.
Most soybeans, good to excellent in the north and poor to good in the south, are blooming and some early plants are podding. Bean growth has been retarded seriously in dry counties.
A second crop of alfalfa is mostly poor to short, with cutting continuing. Much second crop clover is poor, especially in the south. In dry areas spring-sown clover is dying.
Many gardens, truck and potatoes are poor to a failure and except in the northwest pastures are poor to dried.
Grasshoppers in the southwest loomed as a new menace to central and southern Illinois farmers hoping for rains to destroy a new brood of chinch bugs.

ANNUAL STAUFFER REUNION IS HELD AT LOWELL PARK

The 23rd annual Stauffer reunion was held at Lowell park on Sunday with 75 members present to enjoy a bountiful picnic dinner which was served cafeteria style at 1 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stauffer of 215 Lincoln Way, were the oldest couple present. Mr. Stauffer is the only survivor of the immediate family of the late John E. and Rebecca Haight Stauffer, who resided many years near Polo. Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer are 85 and 81 years old.

Immediately after dinner a short business session was called by the president, Bert Stauffer of Polo, and reports were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. George Beckenbaugh of Rockford. Since the reunion last year several members have been called into military service, and one member, the Rev. C. R. Stauffer of Atlanta, Ga., was called by death. It was decided at Sunday's event that the next reunion will be held at Lowell park on the first Sunday in August, 1945.

A Thought for Today

He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again.—Proverbs 19:17.

More helpful than all wisdom is one draught of simple human "pity" that will not forsake us.—George Eliot.

"Keep Going"

An overseas correspondent of the New York Sun writes of an American outfit in Normandy which sent this message back to its commander: "We have reached our objective. What next?"

"To hell with objectives," the commanding officer replied. "Keep going!"

The officer's name is not given. But he may well have coined a slogan that will be as enduring as "Damn the torpedoes—full speed ahead!" or "Don't give up the ship." Perhaps he didn't have military logic on his side. Even the rankest amateur strategist can see that such an order might achieve chaotic results. But he certainly had the right idea.

And the officer issued the order at the right time to give both military and civilian spirits a shot in the arm. Rightly or wrongly, people have been wondering about the Allied offensive in Normandy. They had been wondering about correspondents' stories that the Paris time-table was weeks behind schedule, and that caution had become a vice with the Allied command. They contrasted our slow progress with the Russian powerhouse advance.

Then the tanks started rolling in Normandy, and the enemy lines began to buckle. The infantry was on the move, again measuring its daily progress in miles. And an anonymous officer told his men, "To hell with objectives—keep going!"

The words and the spirit are typically American. Perhaps we've read and heard too much about the weariness and homesickness of our troops. They are both, of course. They don't like war. They haven't been brought up on fanatical tales of the glory of dying for an emperor or a fuehrer. But when fighting has to be done they do it, and do it well. Americans have always been like that. We have good reason to be proud that we've never been licked in a war.

"To hell with objectives—keep going!" That's a sound sentiment for us at home to keep in mind, too. None of us has time to stop and watch to see when Germany is going to topple, and in what direction.

If the enemy is off balance and groggy with inner dissension, that's the time to keep going and hit harder—here in America as well as in France, Italy and the Pacific.

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington.— The administration seems preparing, with resumption of the congressional session, to promote legislation for what could be another WPA.

The CIO-Kilgore bill, backed by left-wing new dealers, proposes unemployment compensation for war workers up to $25 a week, in effect establishing this amount as a minimum wage since no one would dare to work for less.

A hue and cry is being spread that there may be 13,000,000 unemployed, and under the pressure of that fabulous supposition, the movement is being generated for the utmost funds, to be handled by the federal government — in time for election usage, if the peace comes as soon as Churchill has predicted.

Roosevelt's running mate, Senator Truman, engineered the bill out of the military affairs committee, no doubt under order.

This may be at least one fresh factor behind Governor Dewey's recent concentration of attack upon the centralization of authority in the federal government. Certaly no amount of money could be raised to match the $30,000,000,000 campaign influence of such an industrial unemployment compensation measure, plus the soldier benefits up to $25 already passed.

Also, its provisions opened legal possibilities for such things as a new NRA, ordering businesses to work, refusing to give materials to businesses which do not co-operate, etc.

The form of the legislation is what will count. If it is to be taken out of politics, congress will have to adopt some modification of the federalized controls as well as modify the rates.

Democratic Senator George has a bill which would set up a state method of payment in accordance with the existing social security scheme, now covering 30,000,000 people. The federal government would guarantee the solvency of state funds although state directors contend they have a sufficient sum of four to five billions to meet the shock of post-war employment now credited to them.

A third course has been offered by Economic Stabilizer James F. Byrnes, somewhat like the Kilgore bill, unifying standards under federal management and reimbursing the states. While this was presumed to be the official administration idea, it appears now that Truman, not Byrnes, is acting for the White House even though the bill violates several recommendations of the president's special advisor on this subject, Mr. Baruch.

The reason the CIO course will probably lose in the end is that all states, Democratic and Republican, are resentful of the inroads that have been made on their sovereignty and fearful of what this would do to business.

Most Republicans probably will join in behind the George measure along with the southern states-rights Democrats.

As Republican Senator Vandenberg has said, the Kilgore rates would not only give the industrial workers, who have been making highest war salaries, a greater benefit than the soldier, but would be more than a normal wage for many ordinary non-war workers. In the south, he thinks, no one would work for a time.

As far as northern industrial states are concerned, some now pay over $20 a week in benefits. Consequently, there will be a tendency to delay action on the measure in the belief that the states can care for the situation.

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

New York—The newspaper coverage and discussion of the Philadelphia transportation strike have been so confused, so ignorant and dishonest that the public cannot possibly understand the fundamental issues. Legal rights of every worker in the country have been ignored as though they had been waived out of existence. And here, in dramatic and excited clamor, American citizens are reviled as though they were traitors to their sons and brothers in the war because they rebelled against the rule of an organization which is an auxiliary of President Roosevelt's political party. Now, if they refuse to submit, the leaders may go to jail and the rank and file of rebels will be blackballed from all employment in flagrant violation of law and of their rights as Americans and as human beings. That unlawful ostracism would mean poverty, hunger, dispossession and social degradation for the men and their families.

The recognized union in this case is that of the Transport Workers. It is a New York cell of the Communist front and notorious for its brutal violence to every anti-Communist American member who dares to raise his voice, and for its dictatorial rule. It is a part of Sidney Hillman's Communist front of the CIO and it enjoys the favor of the Department of Justice. Francis Biddle, the attorney general, sneaked up a hidden stair in Chicago during the recent Democratic convention to make political obeisance to Hillman, remarking, in the hearing of a credible newspaper reporter, "I never thought I would do this for any man."

Biddle has ordered an "investigation" and sent an assistant to Philadelphia. The FBI, which Biddle commands, has detectives on the scene. There have been sneaking insinuations that enemy agents may have inspired the strike. And a dispatch to the New York Times leads off with the gratuitous, irrelevant and prejudicial observation that the strike provided Berlin and Tokyo with "a windfall of propaganda."

It is here predicted that the FBI will not prove that enemy agents were involved and that Biddle will uphold the Communist adherents of Sidney Hillman, the man called on in Chicago.

The first basic truth to be emphasized is that the workers here did not vote to accept this union as their bargaining agent. They were not even asked whether they would accept it as their political agent. For every 11 who voted to recognize Communists, nine voted their refusal. Nevertheless, the Communists became the bargaining agent for the large and almost equal dissenting minority. In addition, these Communists, according to their rule and their understanding with the Roosevelt administration, have presumed to represent them politically.

The New York Herald Tribune says that if the strikers persisted in flouting the law, the union they had chosen to represent them and the fundamental tenets of democracy, it was essential that coercion be applied.

But no law has been flouted by the strikers. We have no law against strikes, and the reason is that Roosevelt forbade passage of any such law. All we have had is a promise by the union bosses that there would be no war-industry strikes, given in return for a promise that no such law would be enacted. That promise has been violated 10,000 times and the whole bargain, therefore, is off. But the law does say the workers may bargain through agents of their own free choice, and that law was violated in the recognition of a Communist front, political organization, which they had specifically rejected.

The immediate issue was the upgrading of Negro workers. It is held to be undemocratic and un-American to discriminate on grounds of race or religion.

But the same authorities who decry discrimination here threaten to discriminate against white Americans and, by making them utterly unemployable, reduce them to a status even more painful and humiliating than that of the Negroes. Discrimination for certain reasons, they forbid. Discrimination for their own reasons, they approve.

As a political partner of the union, a partnership announced by Biddle, himself, last year, the whole Roosevelt administration is arrayed on the side of one of the parties against the other.

This condition, foreseen long ago, has developed subtly and is now in full effect.

Black Market in Greece Is Worst

Black market conditions appear to be worse in axis-overrun Greece than in any other axis-occupied country, according to authentic information recently received from confidential sources in the Middle East.

With an ordinary suit of men's clothing selling for $2,666 and charcoal at the incredible rate of approximately $10,900 per ton, conditions are appalling, according to James Cledon, chairman of the local drive for Clothes for Greece.

Dixon, through the Greek War Relief Association, is participating in the nationwide drive of the Greek War Relief Association for 20,000,000 garments for the stricken Greeks.

High-lighting the report of the plight of the Greek people is the account of a former vice president of the Greek Supreme court who was forced to sell a mattress to obtain food, and to make his own clothing from his last blankets.

No Needles or Thread

"There are not even needles and thread to mend the rags which clothe the Greek people", Cledon said, in an appeal to the people of this community to donate their used clothing, sweaters and shoes to the Greek War Relief Association. "Seven out of every ten children have neither coats nor shoes to shield their starvation-wracked bodies against the wintry blasts.

"On the black market a pair of shoes with wooden soles costs $100 and a sweater $80."

Latest prices quoted from the black market in Greece were: Meat $70 to $95 a pound with beefsteak costing as much as $165 a pound; cheese, $95 to $105 per pound; rice, $95 to $97 a pound; macaroni, $43 a pound, butter from $165 to $190 a pound, and firewood at the rate of approximately $5,800 per ton. These prices are based on the pre-war value of the Greek drachma.

Used garments may be sent to 103 Peoria avenue, Tom's Shoe Shop.

Daily Review of Activities of Those Seeking Office

(By The Associated Press)

The problems of peace, pushed to the fore by war successes abroad found political echoes at home today in the selection of Rep. J. W. Fulbright as the Democratic nominee for senator from Arkansas and in formal statements by senatorial nominees in New York stressing postwar needs.

Fulbright is the freshman congressman who gained a measure of fame with his house-approved resolution recommending that the United States take part in a postwar organization strong enough "to maintain a just and lasting peace".

He came out far ahead of Governor Homer M. Adkins in yesterday's runoff primary for the seat now held by Hattie W. Caraway, the only woman senator, who lost out in the first primary. Adkins conceded defeat.

Returns from 1,170 precincts out of the state's 2,087 gave Fulbright 69,801 votes and Adkins 52,080.

Peace problems were emphasized in New York by both Senator Robert F. Wagner, new deal stalwart renominated by the Democrats in convention, and Thomas J. Curran, secretary of state, given the Republican senatorial nomination in his party's convention.

Said Wagner: "We must prepare now to win the peace by organizing our great resources for postwar prosperity".

Said Curran: "It will be my mission day and night with every energy I have to aid in bringing about a great and lasting peace".

Curran, like Wagner, is a New York City resident and won nomination as the man most likely to help Governor Thomas E. Dewey carry New York state for the presidency through cutting into President Roosevelt's traditional strength in the metropolis.

A feminine contest with emphasis on America's part in international affairs became assured meanwhile in the Democratic nomination of Miss Margaret E. Connors, Fairfield attorney, to oppose Rep. Clare Boothe Luce in Connecticut's fourth district.

Miss Luce, who speaks of the administration's foreign policy as "globaloney", will thus have as her November opponent one who says "The main issue is to see that the peace is won after the war" and promises "to follow the leadership of the commander-in-chief, President Roosevelt".

The Life of Eisenhower

First Biography of America's Great General

By Francis Trevelyan Miller

Copyright, 1944, Ann Woodward Miller; Distributed, NEA Service, Inc.

"UGLY IKE"

III

GEN. DAVID DWIGHT EISENHOWER was born in Denison, Texas, on Oct. 14, 1890, son of David Jacob Eisenhower, born in Elizabethville, Pa., on Sept. 23, 1863, and Ida Elizabeth Stover, born at Mount Sidney, near Staunton, Va., on May 1, 1862.

David Eisenhower met Elizabeth Stover in a college romance at Lecompton College in Kansas. They were married in the summer of 1885.

The Eisenhowers and Stovers are two of the old pioneer families in the settlement and building of the nation. Both have been in America over two hundred years. The name Eisenhower was originally spelled Eisenhauer, meaning "hewers of iron." From the contractions, Eisen, meaning iron, and "Ike," as the general is familiarly known, is created the historical cognomen, "Iron Ike."

Not only did Dwight become Ike, but all the Eisenhower boys became Ike. When there were six of these little Ikes they went to school in pairs. The oldest became "Big Ike," the youngest "Little Ike," and the boys between were various gradations of Ikes, "Red Ike," etc., according to their characteristics. When other babies arrived they assumed the throne of "Little Ike," and for a time the General was just "Ugly Ike," during his awkward, gangling years But Mother Eisenhower disclaims all knowledge of these nicknames. When asked as to the whereabouts and doings of "Ike" she asks blandly, "Ike? Who's Ike?"

ABILENE, in the heart of Kansas, the home of the Eisenhower family, is a typical prairie town of nearly six thousand people.

When Abilene people recall young Dwight now, their anecdotes seem to center on his high-school days. He managed to carve out an athletic career second only to that of his older brother, Edgar ("Big Ike"), who was in his school class.

Classmates of Dwight describe him as "strong as an ox" and the "scrappiest" kid in school. In one football game—the last game of the 1908 series—he is reported to have "roughed" about half of the Salina High School line because his friend and teammate, J. F. (Six) McDonnell (who now lives in Abilene) had been accidentally knocked out by Forest Ritter, a Salina player.

Among those who knew Dwight well when in high school is Mr. J. W. Howe, a prominent member of the school board and civic leader. He remembers the boy clearly.

When soldiers come to Abilene, Kan., they ask one question: "Where is the house where General Eisenhower lived?" It is still the home of Mother Eisenhower.

"I always wondered why the 'gang' called him either 'Ugly Ike' or 'Little Ike' instead of a more attractive name like 'Smiling Ike.' Dwight had a good personality. He was generally well liked and made friends easily.

"He had self assurance but never in all my contact with him did he ever show any conceit. He resented this in other boys more than anything else. In fact, he would dislike a boy for being conceited much more than for something he had done. He had a good physique, wore his clothes well, never overly dressed but usually had good material in his clothes, for he had to make them last. Ike had to work at all times when not in school. He would take any job he could do and seldom complained about the work being too hard.

"To me the outstanding point of his character," Mr. Howe points out, "was that he never showed any bitterness about having to work. He took this for granted. However, in sessions of his 'gang' he took the attitude that a better equalization of economic affairs should be made. As I stated, he made friends with many people, but still and all he had, of course, his select group. The Eisenhower family had no special pull anywhere, and never asked for any.

"Dwight had two outstanding qualifications which, when properly applied, will mean success to most people in almost any vocation they may choose. He was especially observant. He could walk through a plant, or a building or manufacturing establishment, or watch someone who was adept at his work and be able to tell you everything he had seen.

"The other outstanding quality was his ability to listen to a conversation and then at the proper time ask questions that would bring him the information he wanted."

ANOTHER interesting sidelight on the young Dwight Eisenhower comes from Dr. Charles Harger, editor of the Abilene Reflector-Chronicle. He recalls:

"One of his attainments was cooking. He fancied himself a chef and proved it. While his parents were at church he and his brothers, himself as leader, would prepare the Sunday meal. It is related by his mother that sometimes she would come home and find the boys tossing dough to one another or vying with each other in the perfection of their viands.

"His ambition was to make a pie. After many trials he accomplished it. The pie was declared satisfactory by his parents, and Dwight was greatly pleased by his triumph. He added pancakes and vegetables to his menu and enjoyed the task.

"The dish washing was done by the same tossing method by which the dough was handled. From hands to hands the crockery went the rounds, with only occasionally a crash. When he came home the first room he visited was the pantry, and he longed to try his hands at cookery again. His wife tells of his prowess yet. In their Washington home he frequently took the preparation of meals into his own hands. He prided himself on the perfection with which he could cook a steak."

War Highlights the Vital Services Performed by Telephone Operators

Among the soldiers fighting this war are many, many thousands who never wear a uniform or get near the actual battle lines. Among them are the Nation's telephone operators. Liberalized Rules Prevail for Fall Hunting Campaign

Abundance of Birds Leads to Increased Season, Day Limit

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP) — Hunters may shoot more waterfowl, and over a longer period this fall and winter under liberalized hunting regulations announced today.

The open season will be 80 days, ten longer than last year.

The general daily bag limit for ducks remains at ten, but an additional bag of five mallards, widgeons, and pintails, singly or in the aggregate, is allowed. Thus, if a hunter kills five or more of those species in a day, his bag limit on all ducks is 15.

The fish and wildlife service, which drew up the regulations refused to permit the taking of waterfowl by means of bait or with the help of live decoys, as urged by some hunters.

Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, fish and wildlife director, said the more liberal regulations were due to the steady increase in the continental migratory game bird population. He said the increase in mallards, widgeons, and pintails has been "notable," and since they are the species which do the most damage to crops, hunters will be allowed to shoot more of them.

This is "purely a temporary expedient" to help farmers, he said, and will not be continued beyond this season unless crop protection again makes it necessary.

Open Season Announced

Open seasons on wild ducks, geese, brant, and coot will be as follows (both dates inclusive):

Sept. 20-Dec. 8—Includes Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan.

Oct. 14-Jan. 1—Includes Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri.

The daily bag limit on geese and brant remains at two, but in Pacific coast states an additional bag of four snow and white-fronted geese, singly or in the aggregate will be allowed, and in most other states an additional bag of four snow and blue geese.

There is no open season in any state on swans or Ross's goose.

With respect to ducks, hunters will be allowed to include redhead and bufflehead ducks in their bag limit of ten, instead of shooting only three a day as last year. In addition to other shooting, a hunter is allowed a daily bag of 25 American and red-breasted merganser, which Dr. Gabrielson said have become so numerous they are a menace to fish propagation. Only one wood duck may be included in the daily bag.

Daily Bag Limits

Daily bag limit for coot is 25; for sora 25; for other rails and gallinules, 15 in the aggregate of all kinds; woodcock 4; mourning or turtle dove and white-winged dove, 10 in the aggregate of both kinds; and band-tailed pigeon, 10.

A hunter must not have in his possession at any time more than 20 ducks in the aggregate of all kinds (except American and red-breasted mergansers, of which he may possess 25), and in addition 10 mallards, widgeons and pintails, singly or in the aggregate.

Possession limit for white-winged doves was reduced from 20 to 10 birds.

Open season on other waterfowl:

Mourning or turtle doves—

Kentucky, Missouri, Sept. 1-Oct. 25; Illinois, Sept. 1-Sept. 30.

Wisconsin, Oct. 1-Oct. 15; Indiana, Oct. 16-Oct. 30; Missouri, Nov. 10-Nov. 24.

Rails and gallinules (except coots)—

The season is Sept. 1-Nov. 30 exceptions include Wisconsin, Sept. 20-Dec. 8. No open season in Iowa.

(Coots have the same open seasons as ducks.)

In Alexander county, Ill., one of the mid-west's main shooting areas, geese may be hunted this season from one-half hour before sunrise until noon, instead of from sunrise to noon as last year.

Sports Shorts

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP) — Collegiate football's super spectacle, the Army-Navy game, probably will leave the rural hinterlands and come out in its traditional metropolitan setting this year.

No site has been set for the service gridiron classic, scheduled for Dec. 2, but both Army and Navy officials here indicated a favorable attitude today toward proposals for staging the game in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington or New York.

Chicago, Aug. 9—(AP) —Chief strategist of the college All-Stars in their charity football clash with the Chicago Bears at Dyche Stadium the night of Aug. 30 will be Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern University's veteran coach.

Waldorf, whose selection as head coach of the collegians was announced last night by the Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the 11-year-old All-Star series, will be aided by Bo McMillin of Indiana, Henry Franka of Tulsa and Jeff Cravath of Southern California, all previously named to the staff.

This corps will take charge of 73 hand-picked players, largest squad in the history of the All-Star classic, Saturday at Evanston, Ill. The Bears, world professionals champions, established training quarters at St. Joseph's College, Collegeville, Ind., today.

From 1941 to 1944, 1,300,000 motor trucks were built for the armed services and lend-lease.

BOB FALLSTROM

Clinton's Bridge Works nine, aided by three Dixonites, trounced second-place Collis 10 to 1 last evening in an Industrial League tussle played in Riverview stadium in Clinton.

Doc Bloyer, Shires Miller and Johnny Sloan accompanied by John Devine, Mel Walker and your scribe, gave much needed support to the Bridgers and a 16 hit barrage did no damage.

Sloan and Shires held down infield posts, cavorting around third and seecond, while Bloyer patrolled right field. Sloan led his mates at bat, booming three singles, Doc chipping in with one safety. Shires had a bad batting night as most of his drives were straight to Collis' fielders.

Warren Mason, a huge right hander formerly with a Yankee chain club, pulled the Bridge Works to .500 rating with a nifty mound job featured by a sizzling fast ball.

Clinton has an acceptable modernistic diamond which lacks only a lighting system. When the Three-I League flourished Clinton's park was used for this type ball, but with O. B.'s fold-up and a recent flood the field is badly in need of repair. But altogether Dixon players will tell you they like it—as long as they're winning.

Football note: Coach Bernie Mitchell of Sterling Township has scheduled opening football drill for Aug. 28. It is reported that a number of his most promising players are absent, having entered service but Coach Mitchell is expected to put the usual fighting Sterling team on the field. It looks as if the old feud (Sterling vs. Dixon Dukes) will suffer no retirement this season!

This column seems to be going places. Even fan mail is being called to my attention. Evidently someone is "hiding his light under a bushel" for none of the epistles and telephone calls have revealed the sender's name.

West Brooklyn's scrappy little ball club tackled a very strong club last Sunday, losing to the Peru Parks 13 to 2. Jim Malach was hit hard by the experienced hosts and his club, evidently a little nervous at meeting such a fast club, went to pieces, committing eight errors.

Nevertheless, West Brooklyn ranks as a strong contender off their battle with Dixon. In extending the Knacks to a 3 to 2 verdict they looked very well and much is expected of them during the return game which is to be played later this month.

Dale Bowers, of West High, Rockford, has been selected to lend his talents to the North All-Star cause in the annual North-South basketball feature to be played Aug. 26 at the University of Illinois.

Bowers, who has played against Dixon squads many times, both in football and on the cage court, is a dangerous scorer as the 1943 and 1944 state tourneys will attest. In three tournament clashes Bowers, a sturdy muscular athlete, has poured 50 points through the hoop, an average of 17.1 per game...and that's been matched by few performers in the annual classic.

Basketball is hardly the limit of Bowers' athletic achievement. During his senior year he was chosen all-state end on the gridiron, specializing in snagging passes and being a highly regarded offensive blocker.

He is the only boy from this vicinity to be chosen on the North squad, a rare honor.

Twilight Tear Loses, Turf Crowd Shocked

New York, Aug. 9—(AP)—The turf world still was talking today about the stunning defeat of Twilight Tear, a 1 to 20 choice, by William Woodward's Vienna, 3 to 1 outsider, in the Alabama Stakes at Belmont Park yesterday.

Vienna, who previously hadn't won a race this year, finished the long mile and one-quarter route three-quarters of a length ahead of the Calumet Farm darling, hailed as the horse of the year, who was trying for her 12th straight triumph.

It seems that the Tear's defeat can be attributed to a combination of too much weight plus perfect teamwork on the part of Woodward's entry, Vienna and Thread O'Gold, not forgetting that Vienna is trained by that old master craftsman, Jim Fitzsimmons, who shines at conditioning thoroughbreds for distance classics.

Under 126 pounds, Twilight Tear spotted Vienna 12 in the long grind. The Woodward entry paid $18.20 in the mutuels.

Sewell Worries as Crucial Eastern Road Tour Begins

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Luke Sewell's St. Louis Browns opened their final decisive eastern tour today and even the boss was surprised to find a 6½-game mattress to fall back on if the going got too tough.

"I didn't realize we had that much of a lead until I read the newspapers," said Sewell, "we just concentrate on trying to win every day. Sure, I'm worried about the Yankees and Red Sox. I'm worried about every club in the league, including Washington. They're all tough and the league is pretty well balanced, up."

Sewell may believe deep down in his heart that his Brownies are "in" but you won't hear him say so until the last mathematical doubt has been eliminated. With Billy Southworth of the Cardinals conceding nothing despite a 16½ game lead, Sewell appeared entitled to reserve comment.

The big "if" to the Brownies' chances continues to be the current road trip. If the club can play .500 ball or close to it without developing any serious slump tickets can be printed for an all-Sportsman's Park World Series. After visiting all eastern cities, St. Louis must stop off at Detroit and Cleveland before going home. After the long jaunt, only five road games in Chicago will remain.

Joe Hasn't Given Up

Joe McCarthy hasn't given up on the Yanks, declaring "there's nothing the matter with us that a few well pitched games won't fix." He planned to send Hank Borowy to the firing line today, leading with his ace against the Browns' No. 1 man, Bob Muncrief.

Four games in four days in New York will be followed by four in three days in Boston where Joe Cronin's Red Sox have hopes of blasting the visitors despite the imminent loss of Tex Hughson who is due to pitch his last game today against Chicago. Detroit and Cleveland, still in the thick of the race, staked their hopes on successful eastern invasions. To date the western clubs hold a 125-110 victory edge in four American league intersectional series.

Both leagues resumed with a full schedule today after New York's 8-4 nod over Pittsburgh held the Tuesday spotlight. Bill Voiselle kept the Giants in fourth place by scattering eight hits and coming through with a double to touch off a 3-run winning spurt in the sixth for his 14th win. Max Butcher, routed in the second, was the loser.

Leave me out of it.

I'd rather skip any new car rush—worse than a nylon stocking sale after War. More cars have already gone out of the running than ever were built any year! How'll everybody get his new one overnight? But I've come this far with my engine OIL-PLATED, so I figure I'll be all right. I'll just keep it safely OIL-PLATED by staying with my good old friend Conoco Nth motor oil. If you think you can beat it; okay. But remember, any engine is bound to have acids inside from every explosion. Therefore you'd risk too much grief from corrosion, as I understand, except that OIL-PLATING is made to check it.

The cans of Nth oil tell you about a modern synthetic that does the OIL-PLATING. You'd imagine it's kind of magnetized to working parts, making a protective surface to shed off acids, before the worst happens. Good thing you needn't wait for an OIL-PLATED engine; you can have that whole improvement now, using Conoco Nth oil.

ORSON WELLES' $80,000 TURNS TO $65,000 LOSS

Los Angeles (Delayed)—(AP)—Orson Welles' manager, Jackson Leighton, has testified that although the actor earned $80,000 last year he wound up with a loss of $65,000 because of theatrical and other ventures.

Welles is making $10,000 a month but his net is only $2,000, Leighton testified yesterday in Superior Court. Welles' former wife, Mrs. Virginia Lederer, is asking that he be required to increase support payments for their 6-year-old daughter from $133 to $350 a month and that he set up a $100,000 trust fund for the child.

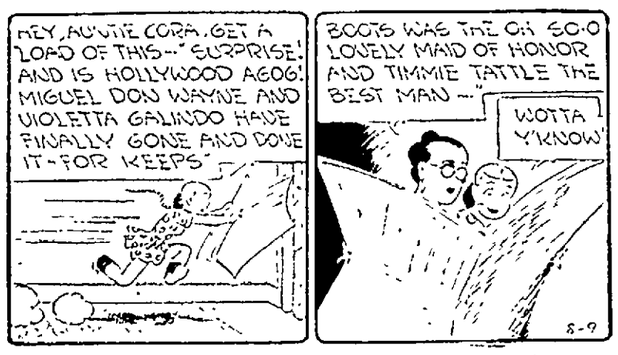

Welles is married to Rita Hayworth.

Orson Welles will be remembered by many as the youth who lived in Grand Detour when his father operated the Sheffield hotel.

OPA Announces New Price Increases

Washington, Aug. 9—(AP)—After August 11 you will pay a little more for cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs sold to retailers by specialty wholesalers, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

The slight increase results from new ceilings based on the highest price of March, 1942, rather than on the previous "fixed mark-up," OPA said.

Pan-frozen fish will go up about one cent per pound also under a new regulation which allows retailers, "who buy whole fish in a solid cake and separate the fish before selling," to add a cent a pound to "net cost" before applying the allowed mark-up, OPA stated.

Another mark-up regulation change announced by OPA today requires retailers to include the quantity of food as well as price and name of the food along with retailers' name and address.

Grove Park

The name "Grove park" has been selected by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kesselring, Jr., to designate the grounds they have recently purchased lying just west of the village and formerly known as the "camp-ground." The name seems most appropriate as the "grove" has always been such a vital part of the life of the community, and to many of the older inhabitants its gradual disappearance has been a very real sorrow.

Mr. Kesselring has many plans for the development of the park, and already several picnics have been held there and others are planned. We have heard many words of appreciation of the availability of such a convenient picnic ground, and also of the work done by Mr. and Mrs. Kesselring to clean the dining hall and provide such a fine spot for picnic groups to eat in comfort.

Birthday Surprise

On Sunday, August 6th, the Kesselring clan gathered at Grove park to celebrate the 65th birthday anniversary of Clayton Kesselring, Sr., as a surprise to him. A wonderful chicken dinner was enjoyed, topped off by two large birthday cakes and plenty of ice cream. The cakes were baked by Mrs. Kesselring, Sr., and Mrs. Warner Schier. Those present to enjoy the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kesselring, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kesselring, Jr., and daughter Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kesselring and daughters Janet, Carol and Judy, Mrs. Frank Kesselring, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Schier and children Gerald, Charlotte and Norma, Mr. and Mrs. John Reinhart, Miss Audra Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaulis and Mrs. Neal Fox of Dixon. All wish for Mr. Kesselring many more happy birthdays.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. met on Friday, August 4, at the home of the president, Mrs. Elizabeth Blocher. The meeting opened by the group singing, "This Is My Father's World." Mrs. Anna S. Buck led the devotions giving thoughts from E. Stanley Jones' "Abundant Living," concerning the effects of nicotine, following with scripture from Ephesians 2, and prayer.

The business session followed. Plans were discussed for next year's work which begins in September. Among other things it was decided to meet every month; to use the topical programs, and to select a program committee to plan the year's programs.

Each one present expressed a desire that active, worth-while work might be accomplished by the union during the coming year, also a willingness to help wherever possible.

Election of officers followed by balloting, with the following result:

President, Elizabeth Blocher.
Vice president-at-large, Ruth Bell.
Rec. secretary, Sarah Dizmang.
Treasurer, Marcy Spratt.
Cor. Secretary, Elizabeth Sunday.
Vice presidents of churches, Viola Holley, Adelme Helmershausen Margaret Hicks.

STAND BY!

Life and work are all before us,
Friends are true, long watching o'er us,
On we march to the great chorus,
Loyally, "Stand By!"

Through the darkness nearing
We will send our cheering,
We will stand
A loyal band,
No wrong nor wrath 'er fearing.

Up the heights of high endeavor,
Failing, pausing, doubting never,
We will shout the watch-word ever.
Loyally "Stand By!"

—Adella Helmershausen.

Change of Tenancy Required by OPA

Many landlords of Lee county rental property are not filing changes of tenancy notices with the Dixon area rent office in compliance with federal rent regulations, stated Arthur A. Thorsell, area rent director, during an inspection of the records at the Dixon office Tuesday.

The director pointed out that whenever a landlord has a change of tenants a landlord's registration copy should be shown to the new tenant and the tenant requested to sign such registration on the reverse side.

The landlord should also procure a change of tenancy blank from the local rent office and have the new tenant sign that blank at the same time. The registration form should be retained by the landlord as his own record of tenancy changes and the change of tenancy blank should be either mailed or delivered to the rent office within five days after renting to a new tenant. Change of tenancy blanks may be procured from the Dixon defense rental area office at 110 First street, Dixon, upon request by any landlord. Failure of the landlord to comply with his regulation has resulted in landlords being requested to call at the Dixon office for compliance conferences.

ILLINOIS FIGHTERS CAN VOTE!

Official Notice to Men and Women in the Armed Services, and to All Other Citizens of the State.

The State of Illinois has provided a system whereby ALL Illinois men and women serving in the armed forces can cast absentee ballots in the general election next November 7th, and can vote for ALL national, state and local offices.

Illinois citizens now serving in the armed forces may be unaware of their rights and privileges under this Act, or may have been misinformed to the effect that they cannot vote in this election. Therefore, this official notice is given:

Men and women in the services can apply directly for a ballot, but they may overlook the opportunity. However, you or any other person may obtain an application and mail it to a man or woman in the services, or request election officials to send an application for a ballot to a man or woman in the services anywhere. Such application must be honored when returned.

These applications are now available at the offices of County Clerks and Boards of Election Commissioners.

It is estimated that approximately 90 days will be adequate time, and 15 days the minimum time, for any member of the armed forces serving any place, to receive, sign and return his application, and to receive, vote and return his ballot.

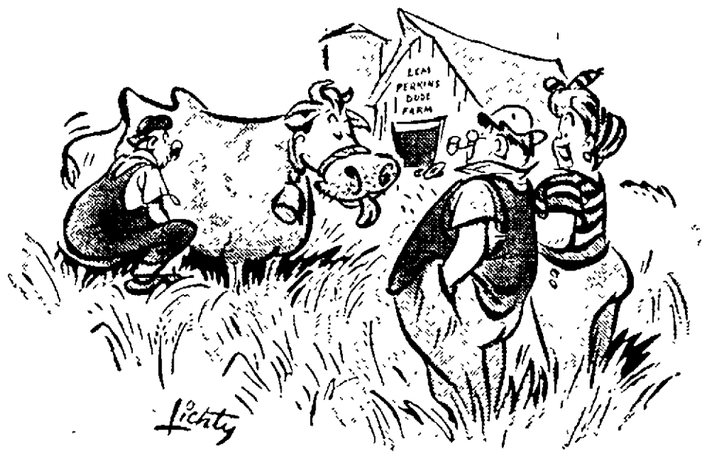

Any citizen in the armed services who will be 21 years or over on November 7th, 1944, who resided in Illinois for one year, in his county for 90 days and in his election precinct for 30 days prior to November 7th, is eligible to vote, whether he has registered or not.

In fact, any motorist—man or woman—can keep a car running right, running longer, and running farther on every gallon of gas. Just take it to a Standard Oil Dealer. He's trained in wartime car-saving service.
